

The Titan Missile Museum in Arizona

If you ever get a chance to see a piece of cold war history and like learning about the history of rockets, then you should definitely check out the Titan Missile museum in southern Arizona. The address is: 1580 Duval Mine Road, Green Valley, AZ 85614.

<http://www.titanmissilemuseum.org/>

I was fortunate to have a chance to see the museum on a return trip from seeing Kevin Harness launch his 250 pound V-2 Rocket in New Mexico with a Kosdon P-7200 motor. The rocket achieved an altitude of 14,000 feet and landed safely under its own parachute:

YouTube video link: <https://youtu.be/5WFUbUZyPt4>

The tour is well worth it in my opinion:

